
Preface

As the interest to nanotechnology is becoming greater every day and the researches on nanotechnology is becoming more popular, we decided to publish a special Issue in International Journal of Engineering & Applied Sciences. IJEAS Volume 8 Issue 2 is published as 'Special Issue: Nanomechanics'. Since this is issue is a special issue, the papers are published in the format we received. We want to thank all the precious authors and contributors who have supported our new journal. Authors contributions have great importance for the journal future as the journal is still developing and not proved its quality yet.
